QUOTE

JOINT PAPER DEFINING AIR ACCESS PLANNING AND PROCEDURAL RESPONSIBILITIES
VIA A-VIS THE THREE EMBASSIES IN BONN AND THE LIVE OAK STAFF PARIS

1. The basic paper "Berlin Contingency Planning", dated 4 April 1959, defines the primary responsibility for air access planning as that of the three Embassies at Bonn, in consultation with the tripartite staff in Paris or with other military headquarters as appropriate. As a civil group the Bonn Embassies consider that it would be in-appropriate for them to plan beyond the stage of active interference, i.e. aircraft shot/forced down, and have recommended that planning from this stage should be the responsibility of the LIVE OAK Group under the basic paper paragraphs 1b, c, 11a, and 11c. This view is accepted by LIVE OAK.

2. The three Embassies Bonn and the LIVE OAK Group Paris have therefore agreed the following division of responsibilities for air access planning:

a. Basic Paper, para 12b (1) thru (7)

The three Embassies in Bonn, have the responsibility for the planning required under para 12b tasks (1) thru (7). It should be noted, that task (6) is taken only to the point of aircraft shot/forced down.
